#WeekWithoutDriving

Disability Rights WASHINGTON

"I plan to be even more vocal about changes to the built environment to make sure that everybody can get around: better street lighting, more sidewalks and sidewalks in underserved neighborhoods so that folks don't have to walk directly along a busy street."

Everett City Council Member
Paula Rhyne

"Going through a week as if I was unable to ever drive myself or my family, and had to rely entirely on other means of transportation taught me a lot about how our system works and doesn't work, especially for people with disabilities."

*King County
Councilmember*
Claudia Balducci

"The Week Without Driving was a really great reality check to think about the decisions that I make as a school board director. Even though we may say 'You're Welcome,' the actions that we take convey a really different message to our families and our community."

Olympia School Board Member
Hilary Seidel

"I am thankful for Governor DeWine's leadership and thrilled with his commitment in this historic budget for Ohioans with developmental disabilities. Thank you to the members of the Ohio Legislature, who have listened to the voices of people with developmental disabilities and those who support them. This momentous investment couldn't have been possible without the collective advocacy from the DD community - many of whom made their voices heard by providing passionate testimony during the legislative process."

-Director Kim Hauck

Mark Schlater's Retirement

Mark has over 43 years of experience in services for children and programs for people with developmental disabilities and served as the CEO at Toward Independence for the past 10 years.
